Questions to Ask When Selecting an Offshore Software Development Team

○ What technical skills do you have that are are needed for my project?

○ How much experience do you have in my industry?

○ Do you use a software development methodology like Agile or Waterfall?

○ Is quality control and testing a part of your development methodology?

○ How many team members will I need to work with to ensure project success?

○ Do you adhere to well-accepted international standards, such as ISO, CMM, or Scrum?

○ Are our time zones a full or partial day overlap, or a day/night difference?

○ What is your command on the English language?

○ What are your costs?

○ Is there a possibility of relocating your team back to our region? (Only include this category if BOT (Buy or Transfer) is something that you wish to consider.)

○ Is there a possibility of making this overseas team an official subsidiary of my company?
